CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES DOING CHRT RIGHT

SALT RIVER DOC - ESU

The Salt River DOC is developing the nation's first CHRT under the Bureau of Indian Affairs. They have a group of officers that are being trained and groomed in CHRT operations. While the Salt River DOC has a small inmate capacity they understand that they aren't simply training without good reason.

Their administration understands that as a small facility they still have the same issues and risk that any other facility has. Director William Daly has taken it upon himself to ensure that they have a CHRT team that can face all foreseeable threats.

If the Bureau of Indian Affairs' first CHRT team, for an agency as small as this one, understands that they need this type of team then it should serve as an example to the rest of us, especially larger facilities, of the importance of this need.

The Salt River DOC is the epitome of how an agency should care and prepare for the seriousness of these types of issues. Director Daly understands this and has taken the valuable steps of establishing a cutting edge CHRT team and ESU unit at his facility. His leadership stands as a testimony to all of us in the industry. To contact Director Daly directly, please email: William.Daly@SRPMIC-nsn.gov
